IF SOMETHING GOES WRONG

16. How far each party can be held responsible

- 16.1 Nothing in an Agreement shall be deemed to exclude or limit either Party's liability in respect of:
- 16.1.1 death or personal injury resulting from negligence;
- 16.1.2 fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; or
- 16.1.3 anything which cannot be excluded or limited by law.
- 16.2 Subject to clause 16.1, in no event, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), misrepresentation, breach of statutory duty or otherwise shall either Party be liable for any loss of profits, income, revenue, use, production or anticipated savings, loss of business, contracts or commercial opportunities, loss of or damage to goodwill or reputation, any loss or corruption of any data, database or software or in respect of any special, indirect or consequential loss or damage whatsoever.
- 16.3 Subject to clauses 16.1 and 16.2, each Party's maximum aggregate liability under or in connection with an Agreement, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), misrepresentation, breach of statutory duty or otherwise, shall be limited to the Charges paid by the Customer under that Agreement in the calendar year in which the loss or damage occurred.

- 16.4 If the Supplier is prevented or delayed in the performance of any of its obligations under an Agreement by a Force Majeure Event, then the Supplier will be excused from the performance or punctual performance, as the case may be, of such obligations for the duration of the Force Majeure Event.
- 16.5 The Supplier is not responsible for any content, goods or services which are accessed, downloaded or transmitted by Customer through use of the Services. The Supplier accepts no responsibility for any such content, goods or services. The Customer shall take appropriate measures to back up data and otherwise protect against loss of data under this Agreement.

EVERYTHING ELSE

17. General

- 17.1 No breach of any provision of an Agreement will be waived except with the express written consent of the Party not in breach.
- 17.2 If any provision of an Agreement is determined by any court or other competent authority to be unlawful and/or unenforceable, the other provisions of such Agreement will continue in full force and effect. If any unlawful and/or unenforceable provision would be lawful or enforceable if part of it were deleted, that part will be deemed to be deleted, and the rest of the provision will continue in effect (unless that would contradict the clear intention of the Parties, in which case the entirety of the relevant provision will be deemed to be deleted).
- 17.3 The Supplier shall have the right to make reasonable amendments to the Terms at any time upon written notice to the Customer.
- 17.4 The Supplier may freely assign its rights and obligations under an Agreement without the Customer's consent. Save as expressly provided in an Agreement, the Customer may not, without the prior written consent of the Supplier, assign, transfer, charge, license or otherwise dispose of or deal in an Agreement or any rights or obligations under such Agreement.
- 17.5 Each Agreement is made for the benefit of the Parties, and is not intended to benefit any third party or be enforceable by any third party. The right of the Parties to terminate, rescind, or agree any amendment, waiver, variation or settlement under or relating to an Agreement is not subject to the consent of any third party.
- 17.6 Each Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties in relation to its subject matter, and supersedes all previous agreements, arrangements and understandings between the Parties in respect of that subject matter.
- 17.7 Unless expressly set out in an Agreement, all other warranties, terms, conditions, statements and representations (whether expressed or implied by statute, common law, custom, usage or otherwise) are excluded to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- 17.8 Failure or delay by either Party in enforcing or partially enforcing any provision of an Agreement will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under such Agreement. Any waiver by one Party of any breach of, or any default under, any provision of an Agreement by the other Party will not be deemed a waiver of any subsequent breach or default and will in no way affect the other terms of such Agreement.
- 17.9 The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of each Agreement shall be governed by English law and the Parties hereby submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.
